LOSSES FROM FLOOD

Great Damage Done in Oklahoma and Indian Territories.

BRIDGES ARE GONE.

In Portions of Oklahoma No Trains Can Be Run—So Far Only Two Fatalities Are Reported—The Rain Is Still Falling.

Guthrie, O. T., May 31.—High water throughout Oklahoma continues to do great damage to crops, property and life. Two men are reported drowned in Cache Creek, in the new country, by the flooded stream, which has inundated the Rock Island tracks to such a degree that all train service into the city of Lawton has been abandoned. This is the same state of affairs on the Choctaw railroad into Ardmore, the train service being abandoned for one week and the bridges over the Washita and Tuscumbee washed away.

It is still raining and a further rise in the Canadian will take out the Frisco bridge at Oklahoma City. It has been guarded for several days.

The waters have deprived the towns in the inland portion of the Territory of mail facilities for over two weeks and the postoffices are becoming congested, but it is impossible to cross the streams and the bridges gone.

The passengers on the Santa Fe train south from Guthrie refused to cross the roaring waters and the Washita, debarked from the train and remained at Daugherty, I. T., over night. The water had almost surrounded the station and tracks there.

The continued rains have affected the cotton crop, doing great damage on the lowlands. All crops have suffered.

Damage Near De Leon.

DeLeon, Tex., May 31.—By far the heaviest rain of the season fell Tuesday evening. Considerable wind accompanied the first of the rain, laying corn flat. Several acres of cotton sloping ground was washed away.

Nearly all the corn of this section is in full silk and tassel and this rain will insure a good crop. Within a radius of seven miles the corn crop is estimated at 10,000 acres, and the cotton at 30,000. The fruit crop is about the best ever known.

The rain Tuesday washed away several bridges in and around town, and washed out 150 yards of track on the Texas and Pacific two miles east of town. Farmers report farms badly washed and considerable damage done, especially to cotton.

Caught in Cache Creek.

Wichita, Kans., May 31.—A message from Lawton says there is four feet of water in the townsite of Walters and the transaction of business is impossible. Every stream in Comanche county is a raging torrent and further loss of life is feared.

An unknown traveling man was caught in Cache Creek and he and his team and buggy were swept away. He was undoubtedly drowned.

The woods at Lawton are covered by water and a current 200 feet wide is running through it. Much loss of property is indicated by Cache creek being blockaded in places by dead animals, farm implements and household goods.

Drowned in Arkansas River.

Lakin, Kans., May 31.—Thomas Hinsley, a well-to-do citizen of this county, was drowned in the Arkansas river here. He was on a bridge watching the rising flood when the bridge was caught by the high water in the river and was swept away before he could escape.

The immense rains of the past three days in this county have caused the river to rise to such proportions as to ruin three of the largest bridges.

Shacks Swept Away.

Wildman, O. T., May 31.—Torrents of water rolling off the Wichita mountains have swept away many prospectors' shacks and it is believed that some of their occupants perished. The river is so high that it cannot take the surplus water of the swollen streams and hence they are over-spreading the country and doing much damage to property and crops.

Bridge at Noble Gone.

Oklahoma City, O. T., May 31.—The bridge over the South Canadian river at Noble has gone out, entailing a loss estimated at $20,000.

Reports from Asher are to the effect that Blue river is nearly a mile wide and that the city has had no mail for five days.

The spans of the new bridge for the Oklahoma City and Western railway went out in the South Canadian flood Friday morning.

The rise continues in the North Canadian river here and boats are being used to remove household goods from the houses in the bottoms.

Choctaw Loses Bridges.

Ardmore, I. T., May 31.—It is reported that several bridges on the Cherokee, Oklahoma and Gulf have been washed away by the recent heavy rains. The bridge across the Washita river is reported gone and traffic will be delayed several days on this account.

Almost a Waterspout.

Estelline, Tex., May 31.—A very heavy rain fell here Friday night, in places amounting to almost a waterspout. It was accompanied by destructive hail in western part of the county. This is the first heavy rain this spring, and badly needed to wash out the creeks and fill up water holes. Young crops are improved, in some instances will have to be replanted.

Rain About San Antonio.

San Antonio, May 31.—Another fine rain fell here Friday. The precipitation was very heavy, the rain coming down in torrents. It extended all over this section of southwest Texas and comes just at the time to do the crops good.

Four Inches of Rain.

Addington, I. T., May 31.—Over four inches of water has fallen in the last 36 hours, and it is raining very hard at this time. Streams are all overflowing. Crops look promising, and farmers are much encouraged. A very large acreage of corn and cotton was planted, and is making a rapid growth.

Walters Is Under Water.

Comanche, I. T., May 31.—Heavy rains have fallen in this part of the Chickasaw nation and Comanche county, Oklahoma, the past 10 days. Beaver and Cache creeks have overflowed and done great damage.

A phone message from Walters stated that the water was three feet deep all over the business part of town and still rising.

Hail Ruins Fairplay Crops.

Beckville, Tex., May 31.—This section got a splendid rain late Thursday evening. A hailstorm occurred in the neighborhood of Fairplay, eight miles west of here, that entirely ruined the crops in that section. Some of the hail was as large as goose eggs.

Damage in Lamar.

Paris, Tex., May 31.—This section was deluged Thursday night with a rain lasting all night long and attended constantly by thunder and lightning. Farmers have been damaged thousands of dollars and many will have to replant.

Charles Park, living near Ambia, reports that he had 30 acres of cotton completely covered up by soil washing down from the bridges.

All of the streams were out of bank and numbers of bridges have been swept away. There was a rise of nineteen feet in Red river at Arthur City with another big rise from above reported to be coming just behind it. An overflow is seriously threatened, in which event cotton in the bottom lands will be ruined and will have to be replanted.

STRIKE AT CHICAGO.

Packers Refuse to Treat With Strikers and the Trouble to Extend.

Chicago, May 31.—Every packing house in the west belonging to the "Big Six" is to be attacked by the teamsters union on Monday if the local companies do not recede from their position and sign the agreement.

The tie up in Chicago, which is declared complete, is to be carried to Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis, and the teamsters, whose national headquarters are in Chicago, have received assurances from their local unions at those points that all the union men will obey the summons and go out. This move will be national in its effect.

The decision to make the call was reached Friday by the executive council of the National Teamsters union and came after a conference with Louis F. Swift of Swift & Co. and Edward Morris of Nelson, Morris & Co., both of whom refused even to discuss the terms of the agreement the teamsters wished signed. The packers refused absolutely to grant the concessions asked or any part, and went openly on record as being unalterably opposed to the recognition of union labor in the yards.

Thousands of persons had their usual supply of meat cut off entirely and many others who were able to buy a little meat here and there paid fancy prices for it. All through the city butchers closed down and many of them will not open again until the strike has been settled.

Have slaughtered and sold more cattle and hogs than all the other dealers here together.

WHY?

Because their way of doing business is to do it by wholesale. TWO big markets—15 men employed all the while catering to the wants of fastidious trade educated to eat good meats and no other. We have the facilities and intend to keep the trade by always selling the best at the lowest prices it can be bought for. We buy Wool, Hides, Pelts at highest market price.

PARAPHRASE ON THE XLVI PSALM.
We shall not fear though the earth be removed,
And mountains be swept to the midst of the sea;
The God of our strength and our refuge has proved
That He present help in our trouble will be.
Tho' the mountains may shake and with fury outpour
Their terrible wrath, for long ages pent,
Tho' the waters of earth may be troubled and roar,
Tho' the heathen may rage, and kingdoms be rent,
He breaketh the bow and the spear He doth shatter,
He uttereth his voice and men's anger is killed:
"Be still, I am God," and his children believe,
While earth's nations harken, their dark passions stilled.
A River there is whose streams shall make bright
The city of God, where His temple is hid;
He speaks to the throng, robed in garments of light:
"Exalt Me, ye nations, whose mandates ye did."
By the word of the Lord the Heavens were made known,
And planets, whose music but echo His will;
The hills everlastingly fashioned His own,
And the deep He overshadowed; its waters are still.
Jacob's God is our strength; His children are we,
And blest is the nation whose God is the Lord—
"Lest we should forget," turn our thoughts e'er to Him—
For Thy judgments are sure, as we learn from Thy word.

PEACE ANNOUNCEMENT

Great Britain Anxiously Awaiting News from Balfour.

ENGLAND IS ASTIR.

If Expectations Are Realized London Will Celebrate as They Have Never Celebrated Before, Not Even of Mafeking.

London, May 31.—If definite announcement of peace in South Africa is made Monday as is expected, that night will bid fair to rival the celebration which occurred when the relief of Mafeking was officially announced in May, 1900.

Throughout London arrangements have already been made for numerous peace dinners.

For Monday afternoon after the government leader, A. J. Balfour, comes up to expectations, little will be done in the united kingdom that day, except exultation over the end of the war that has tried the spirit of the nation to the uttermost.

Already wisecracks are saying that Kitchener will be made earl, and receive the thanks of parliament, accompanied by a substantial grant of money.

One of the most curious features of the war is the remarkable way in which Kitchener has deepened the awe-some respect, akin to fear, with which the British nation regards him and his laconic reports, and his utterly independent prosecution of the campaign in South Africa has heightened his military reputation to such an extent that he has actually become a God to the average man in the street.

Yet he is universally admitted to have next to nothing in common with his countrymen or their government. As Kitchener's star has ascended, so has Roberts' declined. The genial optimism of the old fighter, who is now commander-in-chief, grates so bitterly upon the people severely overtaxed, for the war which Roberts so long ago declared finished, that spontaneous popularity which made him the hero of the jubilee procession could never be repeated at the coronation. Indeed, more likely it will be transferred into a hostile demonstration in which bull-ers' name may be greeted with cheers.

However, peace is undoubtedly the question of the hour, and Kitchener is once more the man of moment. Milner may or may not have played an important part in the peace negotiations, but popular and political opinion has assigned to the ex-sir of the Egyptian forces, bringing about of present negotiations.

This feeling is by no means confined to outsiders, for great financial magnates whose information regarding conditions in South Africa, has often been better than the governments and whose interests there are almost as great as the empires, declare Kitchener is "savior" of his country.

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley unveiled the memorial tablet to Archibald Forbes, the war correspondent, who died March 30, 1900, in the crypt of St. Paul's cathedral. Wolseley paid a high tribute to the correspondent who served through so many campaigns with him.

PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS.

Beveridge Wants Excerpts to Testimony by Committee, but Hoar Objects.

Washington, May 31.—Consideration of the Philippines government bill was resumed in the senate today. Mr. Beveridge of Indiana presented certain excerpts from the testimony taken by the Philippines committee, and requested they be printed in the Congressional Record.

Mr. Hoar suggested that he thought the compilation of that kind presented ought to have the sanction of the Philippines committee, and he moved the matter be referred to that committee.

Mr. Beveridge thought it scarcely fair the objection should be made to his request.

Mr. Allison hoped Mr. Hoar would withdraw his motion, but as the Massachusetts senator would not allow it, Mr. Beveridge then withdrew his request announcing that later he would read the matter if necessary to get in the Record.

Mr. Spooner then resumed his speech in favor of the bill.

A windmill on a Massachusetts farm was blown over and fell into a stream of water; the gearing having been left intact the water of the stream turned the wheel and this, it is said, led to the discovery that power can be obtained by placing similar wheels in streams having a velocity of only five miles an hour and that screw-built wheels can be placed in sets, one above another so that the power can be multiplied without limit.—Exchange.

PARAPHRASE ON THE XLVI PSALM.

We shall not fear though the earth be removed, And mountains be swept to the midst of the sea; The God of our strength and our refuge has proved That He present help in our trouble will be. Tho' the mountains may shake and with fury outpour Their terrible wrath, for long ages past, Tho' the waters of earth may be troubled and roar, Tho' the heathen may rage, and kingdoms be rent, He breaketh the bow and the spear He doth shatter, He uttereth His voice and men's anger is killed: "Be still, I am God," and His children believe, While earth's nations harken, their dark passions stilled.

A River there is whose streams shall make bright The city of God, where His temple is hid; He speaks to the throng, robed in garments of light: "Exalt Me, ye nations, whose mandates ye did." By the word of the Lord the Heavens were made known, And planets, whose music but echo His will; The hills everlastingly fashioned His own, And the deep He o'ershadowed; its waters are still. Jacob's God is our strength; His children are we, And blest is the nation whose God is the Lord: "Let us should forget," turn our thoughts e'er to Thee. For Thy judgments are sure, as we learn from Thy word. —I. C.

NOTICE TO SINGERS.

The Brazos County Singing Convention will hold its fifth annual session with Steep Hollow Choir on the fifth and sixth of July and we would urge all choirs to be fully represented at this meeting. Our constitution declares all ministers of the gospel to be permanent members of this body and we earnestly request every minister of the gospel in the county to be present at this meeting. Ask your churches to excuse you on that day and come out Brother and help advance the cause of sacred song.

We request all choirs to bring their song books. We invite all singers and lovers of music to come and let's blend our voices in one more grand jubilee of song. Below is the special program:

From Brazos Pilot:

As there is a great mistake in the publication of the death of Miss Emma Griffin, will give you a true statement of the same, and papers will please correct the mistake for the benefit of the family. The young lady complained of a pain in her side and a strange feeling all day, but she continued her work as usual, and the night of her death she held her little sister while she and the rest of the family ate their supper, after which she assisted her mother in clearing the supper table. After the night work was finished she read a chapter in the Bible and engaged in prayer with the family as usual, after which she retired to her room. Before the rest of the family had retired they heard a noise in her room, repairing there they found her violently ill and she died with convulsions. Her death could not possibly have been caused by any disappointment in love affairs, for she was perfectly light-hearted and spoke of being happy in the bright prospects of the future. She spoke of and was making preparations to attend the Lake picnic about three hours before her death. She never left verbally or in writing anything to indicate suicide. The doctor that was summoned stated that the symptoms were that of strychnine. If she

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Avenue house was burned at Houston, Tex. The loss is about $11,000.
The berry season in the Texas coast country is about wound up. Reports of scales at the various points show that the crop amounted to 250,000 crates, which averaged $2 per crate.
Farmer & Atkinson's shingle mill was burned at Winona, Tex. The loss is $25,000, with no insurance.
Sam Woodley, a negro, has been sentenced to hang at La Grange, Tex., July 11. He was convicted of criminal assault upon a little white girl.
Mrs. John Klun, wife of a farmer residing near Sedalia, Mo., died as the result of injuries received in a cyclone last Saturday.
The Terminal storage warehouse at New York was badly damaged by fire. The loss to building and stock $160,000.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL that farm or those City Lots you are hereby notified that we would be pleased to have them on our list as early as possible in order to have them well advertised before summer.

The great success we had last season and the enormous amount of advertising and rustling we are doing at present is conclusive evidence that we are going to do the largest business ever done in Central Texas, this season.

PEACE ANNOUNCEMENT

Great Britain Anxiously Awaiting News from Balfour.

ENGLAND IS ASTIR.

If Expectations Are Realized London Will Celebrate as They Have Never Celebrated Before, Not Even of Making.

London, May 31.—If definite announcement of peace in South Africa is made Monday as is expected, that night will bid fair to rival the celebration which occurred when the relief of Mafeking was officially announced in May, 1900.

Throughout London arrangements have already been made for numerous peace dinners.

For Monday afternoon after the government leader, A. J. Balfour, comes up to expectations, little will be done in the united kingdom that day, except exultation over the end of the war that has tried the spirit of the nation to the uttermost.

Already wiseacres are saying that Kitchener will be made earl, and receive the thanks of parliament, accompanied by a substantial grant of money.

One of the most curious features of the war is the remarkable way in which Kitchener has deepened the awesome respect, akin to fear, with which the British nation regards him and his laconic reports, and his utterly independent prosecution of the campaign in South Africa has heightened his military reputation to such an extent that he has actually become a God to the average man in the street.

Yet he is universally admitted to have next to nothing in common with his countrymen or their government. As Kitchener's star has ascended, so has Roberts' declined. The genial optimism of the old fighter, who is now commander-in-chief, grates so bitterly upon the people severely overtaken, for the war which Roberts so long ago declared finished, that spontaneous popularity which made him the hero of the jubilee procession could never be repeated at the coronation. Indeed, more likely it will be transferred into a hostile demonstration in which bull-baiters' name may be greeted with cheers.

However, peace is undoubtedly the question of the hour, and Kitchener is once more the man of the moment.

Milner may or may not have played an important part in the peace negotiations, but popular and political opinion has assigned to the ex-sir of the Egyptian forces, bringing about of present negotiations.

This feeling is by no means confined to outsiders, for great financial magnates whose information regarding conditions in South Africa, has often been better than the governments and whose interests there are almost as great as the empires, declare Kitchener is "savior" of his country.

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley unveiled the memorial tablet to Archibald Forbes, the war correspondent, who died March 30, 1900, in the crypt of St. Paul's cathedral. Wolseley paid a high tribute to the correspondent who served through so many campaigns with him.

PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS.

Beveridge Wants Excerpts to Testimony by Committee, but Hoar Objects.

Washington, May 31.—Consideration of the Philippines government bill was resumed in the senate today. Mr. Beveridge of Indiana presented certain excerpts from the testimony taken by the Philippines committee, and requested they be printed in the Congressional Record.

Mr. Hoar suggested that he thought the compilation of that kind presented ought to have the sanction of the Philippines committee, and he moved the matter be referred to that committee. Mr. Beveridge thought it scarcely fair the objection should be made to his request.

Mr. Allison hoped Mr. Hoar would withdraw his motion, but as the Massachusetts senator would not allow it, Mr. Beveridge then withdrew his request announcing that later he would read the matter if necessary to get in the Record.

Mr. Spooner then resumed his speech in favor of the bill.

Pump Runners Will Quit.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 31.—There is every reason to believe the pump runners will respond with practical unanimity Monday to President Mitchell's order to strike unless granted an eight hours' work day and other conditions prescribed by the Shamokin convention.

That operators do not propose to yield is evinced by the high fences and barbed wire which they have placed around the collieries. Hundreds of extra coal and iron policemen have been employed and armed with revolvers. These armed guards are men back of the high board fences and barbed wire.

Corner on Oats.

Chicago, May 31.—James A. Patten, mayor of Evanston, and a prominent board of trade operator, has brought to a successful close a corner in the May oats, which has dominated the oat market. It is said he cleared $1,000,000.

Americans Win Polo Game.

London, May 31.—The international polo match between the English and American teams here was won by the Americans by a score of two goals to one.

A picnic was given in the Blanton school house neighborhood Friday and enjoyed by a large number of Brazos and Robertson county people.
There was a magnificent dinner with plenty for everybody. Several persons were present from Bryan.

Quarterly conference of the Bryan Methodist church was held at the opera house Friday night with Presiding Elder C. A. Hooper in the chair. Mr. Edwin Jenkins was elected a member of the board of stewards and Mr. G. W. Brown was elected trustee. The financial report was favorable.

The railroads have begun burning oil for fuel and you want to keep a sharp watch on passing locomotives or you are likely to get your hat and clothes sprinkled by the scorching oil waste from the smokestack. It is worse than cinders, and ruins everything it touches.

A MUSICAL EVENT.

The annual concert of Miss Sue McLelland's music class is announceed for Friday night, June 6, at the opera house. Some of Miss McLel-land's students are older and more advanced in music than those of any other class in the city, and this feature will render this concert a very attractive one. See opera house advertisement for prices.

are invited, especially those who have not been attending regularly.

Mr. Jake Schwarz has had quite a streak of luck in his chosen profession —theatrical management. He has the Galveston Auditorium for next season, and the Houston summer theatre for this summer. The Galveston News gave Mr. Schwarz a highly complimentary notice.

The directors of the Central Texas fair association held a meeting Friday night for routine work in connection with preparing matter for the catalogue. It is hoped to have it ready for circulation by July 1. All persons who have agreed to take advertising space in the catalogue will please prepare their ads. at once.

Don't forget the Decoration day exercises to be held at the Christian church at 4 p. m., Tuesday, June 3, under the auspices of L. S. Ross
Chapter, U. D. C., and Camp J. B.
Robertson, U. C. V. The general public is cordially invited to attend and assist the ladies by bringing flowers. The decoration of graves will take place after the exercises.
Those who have no Confederate dead in the cemetery can thus pay a tribute to Confederate valor and their own loved ones gone before.

Another Chance.

Dr. Joseph Daly will stop in Bryan
two days at the Exchange hotel June 3 and 4, to see patients now under his treatment. This will be your last opportunity to consult him for several months. The doctor is going north, as is his custom every summer, to take a special course and will return in November. If you are having trouble with your eyes, call as early as possible as his time will be given principally to his old patients. 153

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

A Farmer Robbed and Crucified in Alabama.

Birmingham, May 31.—Special from Huntsville, Ala., says news has reached there of a terrible outrage committed upon Tom Harless, a white farmer, who lives on the Esslinger place, near Berkeley. Harless, who had been plowing Friday was eating dinner at a spring on the place, when he was confronted by two strange men with pistols, who demanded that he throw up his hands. The farmer's pockets were then rifled of what money he had, $4.00, and the robbers then backed him up against a tree, the loose folds of his flesh on each side were pulled out and nailed to the tree with wire nails. His hands were stretched above his head and nailed to the tree, and in this condition the man remained until dark, when he was rescued by farm hands.

Harless was literally crucified, and his sufferings while nailed to the tree were almost endurable. His hands are ruined, and he will not be able to work for several months.

WATCHED A DUEL.

Crowd Forms a Circle Around Negroes Who Fight to Death.

Chicago, May 31.—Two negro men fought a duel to death with knives here. As they slashed and plunged the weapons into each other's bodies a crowd of more than 50 persons formed a circle around them and cheered the combatants when one or the other drove the knife to the hilt.

After ten minutes of fierce fighting Alexander Shirley staggered and fell with his adversary's weapons sticking in his body. The long keen edged blade had pierced his heart. He was dead when the police arrived. His slayer, Charles Thomas, was bleeding from several wounds, was jailed.

Ex-President Alfaro Denounced.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 31.—The newspapers here denounce Former President Alfaro of Ecuador, who is residing here for conspiring to overthrow President Plaza, his successor, who was inaugurated in August last, asserting that Alfaro has called on the Colombian rebels to suspend their operations in Colombia and come to Ecuador to help him. It is further asserted that the former president has promised that after the Colombians have been victorious in overthrowing President Plaza, Alfaro will assist them to defeat the Colombian conservatives against whom they are now waging a war. The Guayaquil papers are asking Alfaro to furnish an explanation of his conduct.

Malcolm Re-Elected Secretary.

New York, May 31.—William Malcolm, city treasurer of Passaic, N. J., who turned over all his property, valued at $80,000 to $100,000, to make good a shortage of $63,000 in his accounts as secretary of the Mutual Loan and Building association of that city, caused by an error in bookkeeping 20 years ago, has been re-elected secretary of the association at the annual meeting. The stockholders expressed great regard for Secretary Malcolm, who sacrificed nearly his entire property to rectify the error.

Corrigan's Successor.

Rome, May 31.—The statement published that at the consistory to be held June 9, the pope will nominate Archbishop Keane of Dubuque, Ia., to succeed the late Archbishop Corrigan of New York, is without foundation in fact. It is expected the three candidates will be Bishop Charles McDonnell of Brooklyn, Auxiliary Bishop John M. Farley of New York and either Viscar General Joseph F. Mooney, or Chancellor Charles H. Colton, both of New York.

Released from Murder Charge.

South McAlester, I. T., May 31.—Philip Carney of Cherryvale has been discharged by Commissioner Wright upon preliminary examination for murder. Carney, who is a Choctaw citizen, shot and killed Ben James, another Choctaw, three miles east of Carbon Monday. James was beating Mrs. Sims Harris with a club and when Carney ordered him to desist, made a vicious assault on Carney and the latter shot and killed James. Mrs. Harris is dangerously injured.

Sagasta May Retire.

Madrid, May 31.—The possibility of the early retirement of Senor Sagasta from the premiership is again being discussed in connection with the differences regarding the meeting of the cortes. The president of the senate, Senor Montero Rios, considers that, as no decree proroguing the session has been issued, the law requires the reassembling of parliament to make such provision and Sagasta opposes such a move.

Opposition to Nicaragua Route.

Washington, May 31.—A minority of the committee on isthmian canals of the senate have prepared a report opposing the views of the majority. It is directed mainly to showing the impracticability of the Nicaraguan route, especially on account of the volcanic disturbances, and in favor of the Panama route.

Fourteen Hundred Persons Killed.

San Francisco, May 31.—Later details of the earthquake in Guatemala only add to its horrors. Passengers arriving here on the steamer City of Sydney say they understood that 1400 dead were taken from the ruins of Quezaltenango.

Train Robbery a Felony.

San Francisco, May 31.—Senator Platt has introduced a bill making robbery a felony.

GOLIAD STORM VICTIMS.

Two More Deaths and Ten Others in a Serious Condition.

Goliad, Tex., May 31.—Two more cyclone victims are dead. W. H. Maddux and Dave Mathis were buried Friday afternoon. Maddux was one of Goliad's best merchants. Three of his children were killed, only one being left, a little boy, who was not at home when the storm came. His wife is also in a critical condition and will probably die.

Dave Mathis is the third of his family to succumb to death injuries, and his last child, Miss Rubena, is dying. His wife is very low, but may recover. He was one of the leading planters of this section, but resided in town. There are eight colored victims reported to be in critical condition yet.

ADMIT PEACE IS NEAR.

Boer Delegates in Europe Believe the End Is Near.

Brussels, May 31.—It is said here that the Boer delegates in Europe now admit that peace in South Africa has been secured and that the settlement between the Boers and Great Britain will be signed in the names of the former citizens of the two South African republics, who are in Europe, including Mr. Kruger, thus preventing the irreconcilables from continuing a guerrilla warfare on the pretext that they are obeying the orders of the delegates in Europe.

Stabbing at Blossom.

Paris, Tex., May 31.—George Hill, ex-constable and ex-town marshal of Blossom, was fatally stabbed at that place Friday.

He and W. R. Bell became involved in a difficulty shortly before the encounter and were separated by bystanders after Bell had received number of bruises about the face. A few minutes later Hill and Joe Bell, son of W. R. Bell, had an encounter, and while they were fighting W. R. Bell came up. Hill was stabbed with a pocket knife in the ribs below the heart. A physician examined the wound and pronounced it fatal. He lived only a short while. The parties are all well and favorably known and the affair created intense excitement and a feeling of general regret.

Boll Weevil at Reagan.

Reagan, Tex., May 31.—The dreaded boll weevil has made its appearance in large numbers on the bottom farms of this section, and both farmers and merchants are very much disturbed thereby. The farmers report that almost every square is pierced before it can develop into a bloom and that if the ravages of the pest are not checked the crop will be almost a complete failure.

The plant is unusually far advanced this season and looks quite promising, but practically no blooms or bolls are developing. Some farmers are now experimenting with red oxide of iron and Beaumont oil in hopes of finding a remedy for the pest.

Killed by a Live Wire.

Waco, Tex., May 31.—John H. Fisher, a wealthy citizen of Waco, was killed here by electricity. A telephone wire which had been disconnected from a house was across an electric light wire and was hanging from a tree. Mr. Fisher reached up and took it in his hand and received the full voltage of a forty-lamp circuit, causing instant death. He came here from Weimar, Colorado county, a year ago and bought valuable property, which he was improving. He leaves a widow and a son.

First Melon Shipment.

Beeville, Tex., May 31.—The melon season will soon open and preparations are being made to handle the crop. A well known San Antonio firm has opened its office at this place and all the necessary preliminaries are being made for handling the crop in a systematic way, as was done last year. Papalote, in this county, made the first shipment of melons this season. The shipment was made to San Antonio and the melons averaged 27 pounds each.

Willing to Return.

Washington, May 31.—Greene and Gaynor have notified the attorney general they are willing to return to the United States to stand trial before any judge in the United States court except Judge Spear.
